

RENOVATE, REPAIR & PAINT CLASS/CERTIFICATION

Kent
Tuesday, January 17, 2012
The Cronin Company
6306 S 231st Street
Kent, WA 98032

8:00 a.m. — 4:30 p.m. Individual Certification Included

If you do any remodel work, it is important to be certified. The new EPA law requires contractors involved in any activity that will disturb more than 6 square feet of lead-based paint inside buildings built before 1978 must be certified. Washington State Department of Commerce took over regulation in our state 3/22/2011. All previous certification with EPA has been grandfathered in. Washington State will have more compliance officers on the job and your company's chances of being fined goes up. Get certified, do lead safe work practices, and protect people from lead! Additional information can be found at www.commerce.wa.gov/lead.

Class teaches how to test for lead, how to educate the customer to the dangers, reporting requirements, and simple safety techniques for companies doing the work.

The instructor is an EPA Accredited Training Provider.
However they are not a government employee.
